WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

The 23rd anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Baine of the Kennerly summer colony was observed in a pleasant manner at the Cleveland House, Nantasket, recently. The dining room of this pleasant hotel was beautifully decorated for the occasion with potted plants and a profusion of exquisite and rare cut flowers and American flags. Landlord and Mrs. Sweeney served one of their extra fine dinners of 10 courses and it was a feast fit for Lucullus. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Walls of Brockton, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hatch of Brockton, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Morris of Boston, Miss Mary Anderson of Chicago, Ill., Mr. Godfrey Martindale of Rochester, N. Y., Mr. John F. Tobin of Quincy, Mr. William Proot of Cincinnati, Ohio, Mr. Z. Leeper of Montreal, Can., and Mr. Charles F. Baine, son of the host, a student at Notre Dame College, Indiana, also a younger son, Master John R. Baine, and Mr. C. E. James of Minneapolis. All the men are prominent members of the Labor Commission of which Mr. Baine is secretary. The after-dinner speaking and toasts were eloquent and were given in several languages. It was an affair long to be remembered by those present. Mr. and Mrs. Baine were the recipients of many beautiful cut-glass and other gifts.

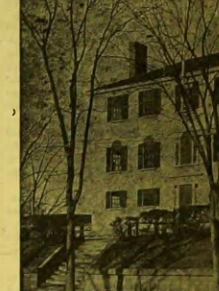

Rev. B. Z. Stambaugh of Marlborough, former pastor of the Trinitarian Congregational Church, will preach at that church Sunday, July 28.

A WELL-KNOWN INSTITUTION OF LEARNING

DERBY ACADEMY, HINGHAM

Founded in 1784 by Madam Sarah Derby

Derby Academy in Hingham, was endowed by Madam Sarah Derby in 1784, soon after the close of the war for Independence. It has been conducted un-interrupted ever since, and the rudiments of an education which has qualified many famous men of that town for important positions of trust and honor were acquired in its historic rooms. Madam Derby, whose maiden name was Sarah Langley, was a descendant of the early Hingham settlers. From her father she inherited much property within the limits of the town.

Her first husband, a Hersey (also descended from Peter Hersey, one of the Hingham pioneers, accumulated a snug little fortune also, and dying, willed it to his wife. After his death she married Lord Derby, and after his death, having no issue by either husband living, she left her entire patrimony to Derby Academy (founded 1784), Hingham, Mass.

For 127 years this school has been successfully conducted.

The school will open Sept. 26th, for education begin with the Kindergarten the season of 1918-19. The courses of grades and extend through the Primary and Grammar and first two years of High School.

Dr. Fred B. Fisher, who will speak at Hingham August 3, is executive chairman of the India Mass. Movement Commission. In this capacity he recently had the privilege of making a very unusual announcement. The Mass. Movement Commission was organized a year ago, for intensive work among the fifty million outcasts, or untouchables of India. They agreed upon a five year program, calling for the pledging of $200,000 a year, for the next five years. Doctor Fisher went over to India to make a general survey of the field and has returned after several months of the time when the Commission was formed, he announced that the entire million dollars for the five years program had already been subscribed, and the money was still coming in.

Doctor Fisher, who comes from Indiana, is familiar with the ins and outs of Boston streets. He did not graduate work before becoming a missionary to India. Later, he returned to Boston, and was for three years pastor of the First Methodist Church in Boston. He still keeps a home out in Hingham, which he visits whenever he is in this country.

Following eighty years as a Laymen's missionary in India, he became General Secretary of the Laymen's Missionary Movement of the Methodist Episcopal Church and in 1913, Associate General Secretary of the Laymen's Missionary Movement of the United States and Canada.

Dr. Ralph S. Cushman, executive chairman of the Joint Centenary Commission, will present the Stewardship plans at the same time.

Interview With Dr. Fred B. Fisher. London to Delhi in eighty days instead of a trifle less than three weeks. This is England's program in India and it had something to do with building up the situation which made England jump into the war so promptly, according to Dr. Fred B. Fisher, who has just returned from India in connection with the Centenary celebration of the mission work of the Methodist Episcopal church.

"There is to be a railway through Bikaner, and England is going to build it," said Dr. Fisher in discussing affairs in India, "and that railway is one of the things that brought on the war. The Germans working quietly along on their program of world domination, had a project for a railway down through Baghdad just north of Arabia to the Persian gulf. This would give them access to the southern seas of the Malayana in the Indian Ocean, and with their vast resources in undeveloped trade. If the Kaiser had been able to put this through, he would have gained a tremendous strategic advantage in his plans for world domination. England saw the danger, and even before this war had revealed to the rest of us the vast aggressiveness of German plans, England realized that she must forestall Germany in her approach to Asia.

"Once before the balance of power here at the gates of Asia was threatened, when Russia was planning railway through this territory. That time, England sent Kitchener down and he stopped it. This time too, they have stopped the Kaiser, and I don't believe there is any

NOTICE

For the Benefit of the Quisias in and About Cohasset

It is the general opinion that a large number of our respected citizens are losing altogether too much sleep, as it is the duty of any good person to sleep in at the opportune time under these serious conditions and comfort any American citizen who is laboring under strenuous circumstances, be it local or foreign. Therefore, Mr. M. A. Grassie, or better known in some sections as "Hall," formerly proprietor of the Cohasset Supply Company, did not fail in business, neither did he sell at auction. He sold his stock fixtures, store and all connected with the business, to Mr. Lane of Roxbury, who then closed out the entire property at auction.

Please do not consider this sarcasm; it is simply a little information for our esteemed gossip society, so they may enjoy their sleep better through the night and turn their gossip during the day to something more unselfish.

There Are Just a Few Who Make Collections Costly

MOST TELEPHONE SUBSCRIBERS pay their bills promptly and the labor expended in collecting the majority of telephone accounts is, therefore, reasonable.

BUT THERE ARE A NUMBER of subscribers who overlook their telephone bills, who neglect to pay them within the reasonable specified time, and the labor of collecting these accounts is great—probably two or three times as great as that involved in collecting all the accounts that are paid within the desired period.

THE LABOR involved in collecting overdue accounts would be saved if all accounts were paid within a reasonable time, and, under present war-time conditions, might better be devoted to other work of value to the community's telephone service.

We are taking this means of placing the facts before telephone subscribers in general and we feel certain that they will co-operate by paying their bills promptly.

How France Has Been Fed

"Before the war, a distinguished French Officer, General Maitrot, wrote a series of articles in the 'Echo de Paris' to warn France, that in case of war, the French meat industry would be unable to supply the French army in the field with fresh meat,—owing especially to the lack of modern refrigerating plants and of refrigerating transportation,—and too, owing to the deficiency in the national herd."

"Since the war began the French army has never been short of fresh meat, thanks mainly to the prosperous condition of the American meat industry, and too, to the American live stock breeders."

The foregoing statement was made by a representative of the Allies now in the United States.

Another representative of the Allies said recently:

"that the American packers have been of the greatest possible assistance to the Allies and have, by their efficient co-operation, contributed in the utmost degree to the successful prosecution of the war."

Love My Dog, Love Me

By LOUISE OLIVER

(Copyright, 1918, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Laura swam about a bit in the water of the lake, then climbed into her canoe and pulled-up shore a bit to her favorite haven, where a little arm of water reaching around a breastwork of rocks, crossed a flat, sunny strip of beach.

In the canoe was a store of refreshments, cereal and meat—candy and a novel—also a towel to dry her hair. Laura had lovely hair, of which she was justly proud.

There was only one thing lacking to complete her absolute contentment—her dog. She colored wrathfully when she thought of him, for she had very substantial suspicions that only the lake separated her from her pet.

Suddenly there was a sweet almost directly over her head from the top of a rock. Laura looked up quickly and frowned. A man in swimming clothes was sitting there quietly watching her.

"It's just as well," said Laura tartly, "that nature takes a hand some times to arouse new arrivals."

"Pardon me, fair mermaid, but you are the newcomer. I was here first."

There was nothing to say to this, and she decided to leave without further parley, when it occurred to her that she had been coming to this particular little cove nearly every day for three months each summer for the last ten years, it was not for her to let a stranger rout her now.

"You're a soldier, aren't you?" she asked.

"I have the honor."

"You belong to that machine-gun battalion across the lake, don't you?"

"Yes."

"Perhaps then you can tell me what became of my dog."

Laura took a piece of chocolate and then looked him steadily in the eye, as impressively as a decidedly oblique eight feet would permit. Authority should never have to look up. Moreover, when Laura looked up with her chin tilted back, and the sunlight dancing in little sparks of flame on her hair, she looked more like a model of hope than anything else. Whatever it was, the young man quite refused to be terrified, although he almost forgot to answer, but for a different reason.

"Your dog? What kind of dog?"

"A Cairn. Not very big, white with brown spots, short hair."

"A Cairn," he said thoughtfully. "Let me see. It would be pretty hard to tell. We have dogs and dogs and then some, you see. All camps have 'em like a magnet."

"I don't suppose there are many like Laddie," she remarked. "Dad gave him to me for my birthday, and as I had my choice of him or another row of pearls for my pearl collar, you see what I've lost. Besides he was a splendid companion, such a good swimmer. Will you look when you go back and see if there is a dog of his description in camp?"

"I certainly will. But how can I let you know if I find him?"

"I come here every day," she answered. "If you could bring him here."

"I might manage it," he said slowly. "But what if I miss you?"

Laura was thoughtful. "Dad gave him to me for my birthday, and as I had my choice of him or another row of pearls for my pearl collar, you see what I've lost. Besides he was a splendid companion, such a good swimmer. Will you look when you go back and see if there is a dog of his description in camp?"

died into the cove. And there was her soldier with a dog.

"Story! That's not my dog," she cried. "That looks more like an out-caster than a dog."

"I hardly thought it was," he answered, crossly. "But it was the only one I could catch. Perhaps I'll have better luck tomorrow."

As usual, Laura had brought along some magazines and some candy. She offered him some of the sweets with an apology. "I don't approve of candy nowadays. But the boys insist on it."

"That will be splendid," he cried with enthusiasm. "Not the candy so much as the visit. There's nothing cheers the boys up so much as a—"

he was going to say pretty girl. "As a nice looking young woman," he finished. "But I must get permission from the boys to call my own."

"I'll try and bring your dog tomorrow."

But the next day it was the same thing. No Laddie! Instead a fox terrier, which barked incessantly.

"That's not my dog, either," said Laura. "Of course, he answers the description, but still a Cairn's a Cairn. You ought to know one when you see it."

"I must confess I don't," he answered. "But I'll try again if you'll let me."

Then the conversation turned to the war and his prospects of going across. Time flew fast.

For six days the soldier came with dogs, a different one each day, and never the right one.

"Mercy!" said Laura despairingly. "You can't go on all summer bringing dogs. I think I'll go to camp tomorrow myself."

Don't Neglect a Bad Back!

It's Mighty Poor Policy to Worry Along Thus Handicapped When Health and Strength Is So Needed

THE man or woman handicapped with a bad back in these times when physical fitness is so necessary, is indeed crippled. It's mighty poor policy to worry along with an aching back day after day; work is neglected and the simplest duties are a burden. Plowing, planting, harvesting, churning, the daily household work all throw a heavy strain on the kidneys and kidney ailments, with attendant backache, are a common result. Don't wait! Neglect may mean gravel, dropsy or Bright's disease. Get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills today. They have helped thousands. They should help you.

Personal Reports of Real Cases

A MASSACHUSETTS CASE.

Mrs. A. Williamson, 3 Pearson Ave., West Somerville, Mass., says: "I had very severe pains in my back when I did my ironing. I was washing. I sometimes thought the pain would kill me. My kidneys became weak and I was greatly bothered on that account. I was told about Doan's Kidney Pills and after taking two boxes, I was entirely cured of all kidney weakness." (Statement given July 12, 1918.)

Another Massachusetts Case.

Geo. Dunning, retired naval officer, 40 Medford St., Somerville, Mass., says: "I served in the navy for thirty years and exposure as well as over-exertion, caused kidney weakness. I was in a pretty bad way and suffered with rheumatic pains in my knees, shoulder blades and elbows. My back was weak and I had to be careful in doing any bending or lifting, because the least strain made my back give way completely. The kidney secretions passed irregularly and contained much uric acid. About a dozen boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills rid me of the trouble. Since taking them, I have passed an examination for insurance and my kidneys were found to be in good order."

Four years later Mr. Dunning said: "I take a few Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally and I enjoy the best of health."

"No. And you can't judge a woman's industry by the size of her kitting bag."

SAFE, GENTLE REMEDY CLEANSSES YOUR KIDNEYS

For centuries GOLD MEDAL Hailem Oil has been a standard household remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and stomach troubles connected with the urinary organs. The kidneys and bladder are the most important organs of the body. They are the purifiers of your blood. If the poisons which enter your system through the blood and stomach are not entirely thrown out by the kidneys and bladder, you are doomed. Weariness, sleeplessness, nervousness, despondency, backache, stomach trouble, headache, pain in loins and lower abdomen, gall stones, gravel, difficulty when urinating, cloudy and bloody urine, rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago, all warn you to look after your kidneys and bladder. All these indicate some weakness of the kidneys or other organs or that the enemy microbes which are always present in your system have attacked your weak spots. GOLD MEDAL Hailem Oil Capsules are what you need.

They are not a "patent medicine" nor a "new discovery." For 20 years they have been a standard household remedy. They are the pure, original imported Hailem Oil your great-grandmother used, and are perfectly harmless. The healing, soothing oil soaks into the cells and lining of the kidneys and through the bladder, driving out the poisonous germs. New life, fresh strength and health will come as you continue the treatment. When completely restored to your usual vigor, continue taking a capsule or two each day; they will keep you in condition and prevent a return of the disease.

Do not delay a minute. Delays are especially dangerous in kidney and bladder trouble. All druggists sell GOLD MEDAL Hailem Oil Capsules. They will refund the money if not so represented. GOLD MEDAL Hailem Oil Capsules are imported direct from the laboratories in Holland. They are prepared in correct quantity and convenient form, are easy to take and are positively guaranteed to give prompt relief. In three airtight, sealed packages. Ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL. Accept no substitutes.—Adv.

no matter what kind, require attention and the more they receive the better they are. A chief cause for poor roads is the fact that a great proportion of the road work done the country over is of so temporary and make-shift an order. Of course, the only real satisfactory road in all weather is a hard road—either paved

Hard Road Well Cared for.

or stone, with gravel next in favor, says Indiana Farmer's Guide. But even such roads fall into disrepair, if given no attention. What is said to be the worst stretch of highway in Illinois was once a magnificent macadam road. Now it is almost impossible owing to the deep hollows and ruts which it contains. Everyone gets it a wide berth and it is "black listed" in all automobile guides. Concrete and brick paving also must have oversight and repair.

Autoists have a saying that there is no better road than a dirt road—when it is dry. This is because, in the case of a well-drained earth road, passing vehicles smooth out the ruts left after a rain and iron it into a sufficiently level surface to permit of easy traveling. Here, again, it is a case of "working the roads," though the work given is of an automatic kind and rendered without thought of the service performed. However, it sometimes takes a long time to smooth out the roughness after a rain, especially if the soil is a heavy clay. And usually the same makeshift attention is given the earth road that is the too-frequent lot of macadam and gravel.

In some townships the dirt roads are dragged at rather infrequent intervals and if a rain comes right after the dragging the effect of the latter is largely nullified. The best dirt roads, year in and year out, are those which are dragged whenever possible at all seasons of the year. This should be done as soon after every rain as possible, but not when the mud is in such condition that it will stick to the drag. It is best to drag one side of the road at a time and forbid travel upon it until it is thoroughly dry. As a general rule the softer the material of which a road is composed the more frequent attention it should receive. But let no one forget that good roads of whatever kind are possible only at the price of constant oversight.

RESULTS FROM GOOD ROADS

After Improvement Price of Tillable Lands Show Big Increase—Children Benefited.

After improving the main market roads in four counties in Virginia and one each in New York, Alabama, Florida and Mississippi during a period of five years, a survey was made of the work and its results. It was found that the price of tillable land served by the roads increased from one to three times the total cost of the improvements. The total saving every year in hauling costs due to this improvement in the roads amounts to $627,409 for a traffic of about 3,500, 000 ton miles. The net saving on the hauling, after deducting the cost of interest and principal for the improvements, averages 11.6 cents per ton mile.
After the roads were better, the average attendance of children in the public schools was 76 per cent; before the roads were improved it was 60 per cent. Ten more children out of every 100 were enabled to get schooling as a result of better roads.

Dairymen Are Careful.
Dairymen as a rule are more careful with their cows than the average farmer who merely produces the milk for family use.

Reasonable Truck Hauling.
Every pound of merchandise which can be added to the truck load makes truck hauling that much more reasonable.

Heal Damaged Surface.
When a road is dragged, the damaged surface is sealed and healed.

KIDNEY TROUBLE OFTEN CAUSES SERIOUS BACKACHE

When your back aches, and your bladder and kidneys seem to be disordered, go to your nearest drug store and get a bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. It is a physician's prescription for ailments of the kidneys and bladder.

It has stood the test of years and has a reputation for quickly and effectively giving results in thousands of cases.
This preparation so very effective, has been placed on sale everywhere. Get a bottle, medium or large size, at your nearest drugist.

However, if you wish first to test this preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

Somewhere.
Mrs. Flatbush—So your husband is "somewhere in France?"
Mrs. Bensonhurst—So I believe.
Mrs. Flatbush—But don't you know where?

Mrs. Bensonhurst—No.
Mrs. Flatbush—Don't you feel somewhat concerned?

Mrs. Bensonhurst—Why, no. When he was here I knew he was somewhere in America, but half of the time I didn't know where.

That Second Thought.
Head of the House (roaring with rage)—Who told you to put that paper on the wall?

Decorative—Your wife, sir.
Head of the House (subsiding)—
Pretty, isn't it?

Going to Dig for One.
In Alabama they tell of one "Doc" Marsh, a queer old "yarb" doctor of decidedly limited education.
One day some one said to him, "See here, doc, haven't you any diploma?"
"Well, no," said the doctor, "I ain't got none on hand just now, but I'm go'n' to dig some as soon as the ground is right in the spring."—Harper's Magazine.

Coal Flows Like Water.
In a great steel works at Pittsburgh powdered coal flows like water through 1,500 feet of four-inch pipe under a pressure of 40 pounds to the square inch, and flows so rapidly that four tons have been put through a 550-foot line in five minutes.

Milwaukee has 5-cent street car fares.

FRECKLES

Now Is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots

There's no longer the slightest need of fretting about your freckles, as Othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from your druggist, and apply a little of it at night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than one ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine,
as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.—Adv.

Doubtful.
"How's your war garden, old man?"
"There's a cutworm drive on at present."

One difference between a man and a woman is that a man grows to be fond of an old hat.

Save the Babies

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent, or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent, or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations.
Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. There can be no danger in the use of Castoria if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
As it contains no opiates or narcotics of any kind.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

Tired Nervous Mothers

Should Profit by the Experience of These Two Women

Buffalo, N. Y.—"I am the mother of four children, and for nearly three years I suffered from a female trouble with pains in my back and side, and a general weakness. I had professional attendances most of that time but did not seem to get well. As a last resort I decided to try Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which I had seen advertised in the newspapers, and in two weeks noticed a marked improvement. I continued its use and am now free from pain and able to do all my housework."—Mrs. B. B. ZIELINSKI, 202 Weiss Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Portland, Ind.—"I had a displacement and suffered so badly from it at times I could not be on my feet at all. I was all run down and so weak I could not do my housework, was nervous and could not lie down at night. I took treatments from a physician but they did not help me. My Aunt recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I tried it and now I am strong and well again and do my own work and I give Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound the credit."—Mrs. J. JOSEPHINE

Makes Every Drop of Kerosene Count

The long blue chimney of the New Perfection Oil Cook Stove turns every drop of kerosene into a intense heat. That is why the New Perfection is the one oil stove that gives gas stove comfort with kerosene oil.

Always ready. Does not overheat the kitchen. No waste—instantly regulated. Cooks fast or slow, without watching—eliminates the drudgery of coal,
wood and ashes.

Already in 3,000,000 homes. In your home it will let you give up the coal your country needs—and gain a wonderful, economical all-round cook stove.
Made in 1, 2, 3 and 4-burner sizes, with or without cabinet top. Also, 4-burner stove with heat-retaining oven and cabinet complete.

Use SO-CO-NY Kerosene—every drop clean heat, inexpensive and economical.

Newton W. Bean, son of Mr. Joel Bean of Brockton and Kennerly Park Trust, who was a student at Wintworth Institute, and after that took a post-graduate course at the Brockton High School, enlisted in the Navy some time ago, and when last heard from, was at Washington, D. C., and is now on the high seas or "over there," presumably. Newton was only 19 when he enlisted.

Miss Helen Baine of Kennerly is visiting friends at Atlantic City.

Mrs. John Sweeney of the Cleveland House was chaperon with Mrs. Hartley wife of Col. Hartley, for a party of young people who attended the dance given by the Special Aid at the Yacht Club on Hull Hill in the party of young folks were Misses Agnes and Vera McKinnon, Miss Alice Sweeney, Mrs. Charles Baine and Dr. John Sweeney.

Henry Dobbin is a guest at the Cleveland House in his week-end furlough from camp. His young friends gave him a surprise party and presented him with a w. telegraph. He was with a wrist watch on the occasion of his last visit.

Mr. Robert Kelley of the Randolph House will extensively remodel the home he recently bought of his brother Walter and make it the home for his family and mother. Mr. James Douglas has contracted to do work for the alterations are completed, Mr. Kelley contemplates a trip to South America on business and will probably be in government service.

Mrs. Helen Curley and her daughter, Miss Mary E. Curley, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Jacobs of Brookline, Miss Emma Jacobson, the Misses Wilson, Miss Helen Landry of New York, Miss Mary E. Deaver of Lexington, Miss Annie Durham and Miss Mary E. Walsh of Charlestown are guests of Mrs. Marjorie McTearan at the Windsor House.

Private James Curley was home last week for a short visit and was called to report at once for duty.

The melodies on popular songs written and sung by Noel Kelly of the Randolph House are popular with the patrons at this hotel.

The orchestra at the Oakland House is a crackjack. Harrison is sometingler when it comes to playing several instruments at once.

Mrs. Thirus of the Oakland House is wearing the lost a diamond ring which has been hers from childhood and which she valued very highly.

HULLONIANS' HAPPY HOURS

The War Sale and Entertainment held by the Hull Branch Special Aid, Nantasket and Village Units co-operating was very successful in every way. Report of the chairman will be found in another column.

The work of the Service Club is going forward in well ordered manner and the house is of value to the men in the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Winn are entertaining a young lady friend from New York.

Mrs. Hollis, the faithful and efficient bookkeeper for Oley and Winters express, Pink and Hickey, proprietors have not been well and her employers insisted upon her taking a vacation.

Miss A. F. Young of "The Wild Wave," is registering her usual full house. Guests return to this well ordered resort, season after season. Table, unexcelled. Cleanliness in every department.

A recent enjoyable occasion was a Marshmallow Party for the guests, tendered by Mrs. Coors of Colorado. Among the many who have registered are the following who are here at present: Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Estabrook, Miss Louise Estabrook, Newtonville; Miss Agnes Murphy, Boston, Miss F. M. Lewis Belmont; Mr. G. T. Pettit, Boston; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Walker, Master Albert Walker; Mr. and Mrs. C. Mr. and Mrs. Desmazes and daughters, the Misses Montgomery were late this season in coming to their summer home on the ocean front at Pemberton owing to the fact that they first moved to their beautiful new home on Chestnut Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Montgomery have been home on a visit from the West.

Mrs. Lloyd Shaw is at her friend Mrs. Bert Beans caring for her little guest while Mrs. Bean is in the Sturgis hospital. We are glad to state that Mrs. Bean is recovering rapidly from an operation for gall stones.

Sylvester Hospital has all the rooms filled and Dr. Sylvester has placed some patients in the Nurses' Hospital.

Private John Hogan, who is stationed at Fort Revere is present in fortune in having his sister, Mrs. J. Leo McDonald at her summer home at Pemberton. It is down to sister for "the little cat" for John and his friends.

Mrs. Brown, wife of Lieut. Col. Brown and two children will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Leo McDonald, coming on July 20th.

Mr. Robert Burns of Cambridge, ex-acted ruler of the Elks and family are again summering at Pemberton in the cottage colony.

The Pemberton Hotel and Inn are as usual popular with those who seek vacation or outing.

Miss Ruth Montgomery is very fond of taking long auto trips on which she is accompanied by her mother, family and friends.

Mrs. J. Leo McDonald is receiving the sympathy of her friends on the loss of her father, Mr. Hogan, who recently died suddenly. He was esteemed and beloved by all who knew him. Mrs. Hogan and the Misses Katherine and Rose Hogan were recent guests of Mrs. McDonald.

Mrs. Isabelle Snow and family of Boston are spending their first summer on Arthur street, Pemberton.

Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Hyde and niece, Miss Madam are again located for the season in their cottage on the ocean front at Pemberton.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Williams are occupying their beautiful summer home on the ocean front Channel street and are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brown of Philadelphia. Mr. William desired to show Mr. Brown the beauties of Massachusetts and in consequence invited him to Hull and the South Shore. It is said by no less a person than Mr. Brown himself that he has ascribed to the charms of New England and especially the South Shore of Massachusetts.

In the Louie Cottage at Allerton on recent date a very happy party of four appreciated Mrs. Crafts hospitality. The party were Miss Alice Hall, daughter of the Philadelphia Hospital, Lieut. Gunner of Fort Wayne, Indiana, Lieut. Denham of Cincinnati, and Miss Constance of Milton. Two of the party had never been in the surf before and it was a very pleasant experience. Mrs. Crafts is an ideal hostess and her guests were anxious to stay longer but duty called. All the boys in the service know Mrs. Crafts love her. Last season "The Louie" was always filled with friends of Capt. Addison Crafts and family.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. O'Donnell and family are occupying their cottage in the Village for the summer.

Mrs. Helen Belmont for many years a prominent summer resident at Pemberton, is again occupying her pleasant home on the water front and is entertaining her family and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Belmont and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Belmont and 3 children will come down for the month. Mrs. Belmont is 12 grandchildren and entertains them all in the summer season.

The hour of daylight business men will gain by change in time they lose at the office at Pemberton," says one of the prominent business men who summer at Allerton.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Libbie of Dorchester are summering, as usual, in one of the Water cottages on Hay avenue, Allerton. They have been outteraining Mrs. Libbie's mother, Mrs. A. Benson Rowe, also of Dorchester over the week-end, before she leaves for her own summer home at Five Islands, Mr. Commodore Douglas of the Boston Yacht Club, who formerly owned one of the most beautiful homes on Allerton Hill, before he sold to Es-Moritz Fitzgerald, also has a beautiful bungalow at Five Islands and the fastest motor boat ever seen in that vicinity, were they are noted for speedily.

Corp. Jack Knowles in an interesting letter to his mother to whom he is devoted, commands the work of the Salvation Army and Red Cross. There. This was written after his return from going "over the top."

"Today I walked two miles to a Red Cross bathhouse, took a hot shower bath, disinfected my clothes in a steam boiler, received a new suit of underclothes and socks from them free. That is one of the excellent ways the money contributed to that noble cause is being spent."

And also officers' ball last evening. The young ladies are Red Cross nurses from a nearby city. These girls surely deserve some recreation for the splendid work and self-sacrifice in being over here."

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Chisholm of Melford, who recently bought one of the Battle cottages near Hull Station are down with their family.

Mrs. Frederick Gibson has rented one of her cottages to Mrs. Kelly of Cambridge.

Mrs. Henry Ackerson of Brookline is spending a week's vacation at Mrs. Hermon's summer home. These ladies are doing splendid war work.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ackerson of N. Y. City will be with Mrs. Hermon in August.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. McIntosh has entered the service of the U. S. coming North to enlist in the Navy.

Clifford James has been transferred from Portland to Commonwealth Pier and has had a short furlough to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John James.

H. R. WEST'S STORE

West's Corner

So many times we have rung the changes on the variety of goods to be found at West's Corner store that it is almost impossible to say anything more, but the latest novelty that Harold is placing before the public is a rubber shoe that wears, not wears out. This is only one of his novelties.

SUNSET POINT POINTERS

The Sunset Club was entertained on Friday at the home of Mrs. Mae Gay.

The afternoon was spent in seeing for the Nantasket Branch S. A. S. A. P. A. delicious punch was served by the hostess. The ladies left at about five o'clock and all agreed that it had been one of the most enjoyable meetings in the history of the Club.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Buckley are entertaining Mrs. Buckley's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur F. Jones of Springfield. We would like to be Mrs. Buckley's guest as the Buckley "rats" are famous.

Miss Dorothy Holman has accepted a position as kindergarten teacher in Brookline, and will take up her new duties in September. Miss Holman, who has been teaching in New London, N. H. for the past two years has had as her guest, Miss Ruth Hersey of New London.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Loring of Braintree, were the week-end visitors at "Larned Villa."

Mr. and Mrs. Binney and son, Sidney, of Braintree, are the guests of Mrs. Helen B. Jenness.

PLEASE PERSONNEL

At the Allerton Pharmacy the personnel is worthy of more than passing notice: the Misses Gladys and Helen Lucas, Gertrude Rhodes, Harriet Wetherbee, short and stout, and last but not least, Charlie Harley—the always-on-the-job-ever-smiling-only-and-original Charlie (apologies to Tom Lawson for using one of his hyphenated adjectives, but no other would fit Charlie) and Dr. Conwell. We must also mention Mr. George Goldberg, who comes occasionally to assist. "Let George do it" has become an axiom in the Pharmacy business life.

ALLERTON'S GRAND BAZAAR

The report in full of Allerton's Grand Bazaar in aid of the Special Aid Society will be given later. It was a great success and it is estimated that $1500 was realized. Did every body work Well, rather.

CHESTER WELLS PURINGTON

Mr. Chester Wells Purington of London, England, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Purington of Brookline and Allerton has been looking forward to returning to greet his former Harvard classmates on the year in June.

His twenty-fifth anniversary held this year in June. In a letter to his parents he expressed regret that owing to war conditions he could not come back. Mr. Purington has received an appointment from America as consulting engineer of the U. S. Mining Bureau. He was engaged as expert consulting mining engineer under the direction of the British Admiralty. He was formerly with the United States Geological Survey and later was engaged in engineering enterprises in Russia where he spent fourteen summers and one winter in Siberia. Mr. Purington has been for many years special correspondent of the Mining and Engineering Magazine, published in London.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Loring of Braintree, were the week-end visitors at "Larned Villa."

Mr. and Mrs. Binney and son, Sidney, of Braintree, are the guests of Mrs. Helen B. Jenness.

CONTRACT OR JOBBING

Concerning Sleeping Garments

Many women prefer pajamas to nightdresses and others acknowledge their advantages over the nightdress but are loath to part company with the dainty and frilly finishings that pajamas lack. For their benefit we have been furnished, by those who make undermuslins their special study, with a variety of sleeping garments of a new sort. These include separate trousers and coats or jackets and one-piece garments in which trousers are fastened onto a bodice. Besides these there are full-trousered pajamas worn under short kimono coats and for all of them crepe de chine has proved as practical in every way as muslin. It is easily laundered and as filmy and dainty as batiste.

The figure at the left, in the picture above, is clad in plain pajamas made of saten. They are very like the garments worn by men and are developed in several cotton fabrics, percale and outing flannel among them, and in crepe de chine. Occasionally a print-flowered silk or men's wear silk shirtings are made in this model—the latter recommended to withstand wear. The garment at the right is also classed among pajamas. Just now, flesh-colored batiste with narrow Val lace and insertions or fine swiss embroidery used for decorations, is the favorite cotton fabric for these garments, but in the picture the change seems to have fallen on striped dimity.

The full trousers have almost the effect of a narrow skirt and are drawn in about the ankles in fascinating lace-trimmed frills. A heading, set in at the waistline, carries a satin ribbon that gathers up the necessary width about the waist.

Trousers on pajamas of crepe de chine are often banded with silk in a contrasting color and made very full. The simplest of slip-over upper garments is bordered with the same color or as that used in the trousers. These new sleeping garments will please the woman who likes distinctive lingerie.

Painted Sport Hats.

Painted sport hats are affected by the younger girls at some of the seaside and country places. They are painted with all sorts of designs, but perhaps those showing daisies and poppies and the other unsophisticated flowers that have come in for much approbation this summer on the part of fashion, are the smartest. Very effective, too, are those painted with green and blue designs—pennock feathers, for instance, wound around the crown (in paint, of course), or pine needles and cones. With some of these hats there are bags—inverted hats, they are, with silk tops and draw strings. And with some there are those little straw cases, one-half of which slips into the other, decorated like the hats.

Shoes That Have Proved Popular

Here is a representative display of summer shoes that have proved popular with women who give thoughtful attention to their footwear. Except for shoes for sport wear they include styles for any sort of demand. For the street the choice between high and low shoes depends upon the weather and taste of the wearer and there is safety in providing oneself with both kinds. The high boot at the left of the picture in black kid and the oxford at the top, also in black kid, may be had with Cuban heels for those who prefer them to French heels. But French heels are not always high and some women like them on street shoes. At the right of the group is a pair of white lace high boots being among the styles that are favored above all others for smart dressing. Like black shoes they go well with almost any dress. But they are to be classed among expensive luxuries, for they must be made of fine quality of kid in order to clean successfully—and they are always being cleaned.

In the center of the group is a pair of dressy black colonial pumps with steel buckles. These are dressy enough for any sort of wear, but below them a more brilliant pair of pumps in patent leather has buckles in sparkling jet.

There is nothing more elegant than these and they are immensely well liked for afternoon and evening wear.

There is nothing more durable or satisfactory than white canvas shoes for street wear. They are more easily cleaned than other white shoes and strong linen canvas will outwear leather. For midsummer they are the coolest of shoes and probably the most economical in the long run.

New Fancies.

Some simple jersey dresses are seen with collar and cuffs of knitted wool in bright colors. Crisp and summer-like and lovely are the new collar and cuff sets. They are of fine organdy, not only in white, but in delicate colorings as well. There is the fashionable yellow, Alice blue and rose pink. They are in new shapes and have tiny ruffled edges. As though the gamut of color had been run in the separate vests to be used with the plain tailored suit, we are now shown vests of black satin. In the colored kind bright organdy is the newest.

ADVANCEMENT IN WESTERN CANADA FARM LAND PRICES

Stories of phenomenal advancement and prosperity in Western Canada have been told the reading public for some years past. The stories were told when there were hundreds of thousands of acres of splendid land adjacent to railways and projected lines, which could be had on the payment of a mere $10 entry fee, and under cultivation and living conditions. As was prophesied then, the day has come when these are few. There are still available thousands of these; they are some distance now from the railways. The land is as good as ever, but pioneering conditions will have changed. A great many are still taking advantage of this free offer from the government. The story was told when good lands near lines of railway could be bought for from $8 to $10 per acre and the prophecy made that these prices would double in a few years, for the intrinsic value was far more than that. That day has come more quickly than expected. The immense crops of grain that could be raised has brought about the change, and the demand for low priced lands with maximum returns has prompted the keen purchaser as well as the owner of higher priced land from which no greater return could be looked for. Prices of land in Western Canada are still advancing, and will continue to advance until, of course, the limit is reached—when returns will warrant no further increase. That day is not far distant. But, in the meantime, there are large tracts of land owned by land companies and private individuals that have not felt the advance that has been shown in other districts. The opportunity to purchase these should not be lost sight of, and if there are those amongst the readers of this article, which is authorized by the Canadian government, who wish cheap land, such lands as are presently offered at 25 to 40 bushels per acre, and will pay for themselves out of one year's crop, advantage should be taken of the present opportunity.

Coming to Alberta with his family thirteen years ago, his assets consisting of a small outfit and $20 in cash, Mr. O. F. Malenberg has accumulated by farming and live stock raising assets to the value of more than $300,000, and has a personal credit worth on demand, $100,000. He has not speculated in land, but bought only to farm. Near Blackie, Alberta, he operates 3,100 acres of wheat land. He has just purchased an additional 11,500 acres near Cardston, in Southern Alberta. His personal credit enabled him to finance this deal in Calgary in a little over three hours. The ranch just purchased is a fully equipped stock and grain ranch. At the present time it carries a thousand head of cattle and several hundred horses, and is fully equipped with buildings, machinery, corrals, sheep sheds, dipping vats, etc. That is a story from one district. Let us select one from a district some hundred or more miles from that.

"Peter A. Klassen, who recently moved to Herbert, Sask., from Kansas, has purchased a section of prairie land in the Billshero district, about 24 miles northwest of Herbert, for which he paid $12,000 cash. He is erecting temporary buildings to live in while waiting the place in cultivation, and, this summer plans to erect good buildings on the farm and equip it for a home. Mr. Klassen recently sold his 80-acre farm in Kansas for $15,000 and is investing the proceeds in Canada."

With the proceeds of the sale of his land in Kansas, this farmer purchased in Saskatchewan a piece eight times as large as he had previously been farming, and had a balance with which to purchase equipment, stock, etc., of $3,000. Moreover as land in Saskatchewan may be expected to yield twice as much grain per acre, he will be able to produce sixteen times as much as formerly.

The average value of farm land for the whole of Canada, including land improved and unimproved, together with dwelling houses, barns, stables and other farm buildings, is approximately $44 per acre as compared with $41 in 1910, according to the latest report of the Census and Statistics branch at Ottawa. The average value of land in the Prairie Provinces is as follows:

Manitoba	$31.00
Saskatchewan	26.00
Alberta	26.70

It is the low prices at which land can be obtained in Western Canada, which is rendering this country such an important factor in the production of foodstuffs at the present time. It is enabling men who have been farming small areas in older districts to take up and farm with the same capital areas not only many times as great, but which are also capable of producing considerably larger crops to the acre.—Advertisement.

THAT BOLO KNIFE SURE CAME HANDY

Henry Johnson, Colored Soldier,
Split a Lot of Hun Skulls
With the Weapon.

WAS ADOPTED FROM MOROS

War Department Now Issues the Terrible Cleaver to Some of Our Troops, and the Germans Don't Like it at All.

Washington.—A year ago Henry Johnson, a colored citizen of Albany, N. Y., was peddling ice, coal and wood in contented obscurity. Today Henry Johnson, a soldier of the United States, is wearing the coveted French war cross with palms, because he proved himself a brave man, and because at the critical moment he got his hands on a bolo knife.

The cable has told of Henry's exploit—how on night duty with a companion in an American listening post he "took 'em," 24 marauding Germans in a swift rough-and-tumble, killed some of them with his rifle, bombed others from his basket of grenades, and then, even after he had been wounded, split so many skulls with his bolo that all the enemy left on their feet after meeting Henry became suddenly and violently homesick.

The bolo knife which Henry wielded so well weighs one pound and three ounces without its scabbard, and has a broad 14-inch blade. It is sharpened to a razor edge, and near the end runs abruptly to a thrusting point. But one of its chief virtues as a small-arm is its cleaving power. Most of the weight of the knife is distributed along the back of the blade.

Americans first ran up against the bolo in the Philippines. Over there it was originally an agricultural tool, just as the machete was in Cuba, and blacksmiths at country crossroads have more of it out infinitely and in all sorts of forms. The "kris" with its curly blade is a form of bolo, and the "caulipili" is a bigger bolo.

Was Weapon of the Moros.

It was up among the Moros that it was developed for war purposes. In the underbrush it proved a very terrible weapon, and many a trooper found to his cost. A stroke in the tropical night—just one—counted for a major American casualty. After a while our soldiers found there was no particular knack in the Malay use of the bolo they could not master. Then they began to capture bolos. And so, after the war ended, bolos kept coming back to the United States as souvenirs.

But it was not until 1910 that the war department tried the experiment of issuing the bolo knife as a regular part of the American equipment. It was used and tested by our men in Mexico, but there it was employed chiefly as a tool rather than a weapon. It was not until our khaki-clad boys went down into the French trenches that the bolo knife proved its right to be considered "the last line of defense" and a life-saver to the man who unsheathed it.

Our colored troops display a special aptitude and affection for this weapon. The white fighter is inclined to rely upon his automatic pistol in an emergency at close quarters, but the colored man in uniform takes as naturally to the bolo knife as he does to a well, as he does to the name of "Mr. Johnson."

Issued to U. S. Troops.

The bolo knife is issued to our troops in two sizes—the smaller size of the type which Henry Johnson used, and a larger knife employed exclusively by field artillery batteries. This latter is practically a short sword, comparable to the principal weapon of the old Roman legionaries. It is two feet long and weighs between three and four pounds. Of course, being limited only to artillerymen who are not ordinarily actually at grips with the enemy, it is intended mainly as a sort of underbrush cutter. But in the hands of a desperate man fighting for his life it is a terrible persader.

The bolo is in no sense a trench knife. That is issued to every man in the ranks and is a special tool not meant for fighting sure at the last gasp. But the 14-inch bolo knife is essentially a weapon. It is issued to six per cent of our infantry forces—not regularly to every seventh man, but as occasion may require or the immediate commanding officer may direct. Henry Johnson was given his because he was assigned to particularly dangerous duty in a listening post. Others may be equipped with bolo knives—for instance, as members of a special detachment to accompany raiding forces within the enemy lines. Their work must be quick, silent and thorough. From Luveville to Cantigny the Germans have found it so.

The small arms division of the United States ordnance department believes that the bolo knife has points of superiority over any knife in use on the European battlefield, else it would not have been adopted for our use.

MARINE SOUNDS GAS ALARM

Back home, a gong similar to this was sounded when old man Zerk's barn was afire. In the battle zone it is quite a different occasion. This American marine is sounding the alarm so that our boys may be prepared to meet the poisonous gas attack being launched by the Germans by putting on their gas masks, which the marine has ready done.

BALDY OF NOME AND HIS SERVICE FLAG

as hard as steel itself. And for an erstwhile civilian's muscles to become sufficiently hardened takes time and training.

The daily work, the fresh air, plenty of sleep and the excellent daily rations are doing wonders in producing in a bunch of red fighting men as can be found anywhere. The officers' school will be continued indefinitely. As fast as men complete the prescribed course, others will take their places. From now on, all commissioned officers will be selected from the ranks.

The link corps is a progressive unit. Every once in a while a battalion will disappear overnight, bound for "somewhere." Recruits will fill their places and the work of training will move right along. New officers, trained simultaneously with the men, will command the disappearing battalions.

The members of the Iowa Dental association recently pledged themselves "not to use any materials, supplies or equipment made in, or supplied by, Germany" for 50 years after the close of the war.

USE SNAKES IN WAR

California Man Has Scheme to Kill Off Huns.

"Lonesome Jack" Says Side Winders Would Exterminate Whole Boche Army.

Los Angeles, Cal.—"Lonesome Jack" Altman, king of all rattlesnake catchers, offers to gather 10,000 side winders or horned rattlesnakes if the government will let him, dump them into trenches vacated to the Germans by the Americans and let the snakes do the rest. The side winder is a death dealer extraordinary, strikes three times as fast as any other rattler, and, unlike others, does not act on the heart but paralyzes the nerves within 20 minutes.

Altman would have no trouble in gathering them in Arizona and the Imperial valley, he says. The Germans if they possessed such a deadly weapon would not hesitate to use it, Altman believes.

"The beauty of my idea is that the rattler can live five or six months in captivity without either food or water and they will be just as effective during that time," says Altman. "I have an antidote for rattlesnake bite that could be supplied to anyone that handles them, but the Germans would not know what stung them."

"My idea would be to catch them and then soak their tails in warm water. Then the shell that rattles and gives warning could be removed without injury to the snake. Their fangs are so sharp that unless the warning is given with the rattles a person would hardly know what hit him. Side winders range in size from four to twelve feet.

SALUTES PHOTO OF PREMIER

Instinctive Action of Officer Reveals Respect of French for M. Clemenceau.

Paris.—Little unconscious acts often reveal the real measure of the popularity of a great leader.

In the photographer's showcase not far from the fashionable Rue Monceau there is among other pictures an excellent almost life-size head of M. Clemenceau. A young French officer who was passing the shop the other day glanced casually at the showcase. Perceiving the picture of his chief he instinctively raised his hand to a salute and passed on unaware that his spontaneous tribute had been observed. In the early days of the long-range bombardment of Paris, says the Matin, it was stated that the shells were made from a new type of steel alloyed with vanadium, which gave it exceptional properties. But analysis has shown that the shells are made of ordinary nickel and chrome steel, such as is in current use for unknagging guns both in France and Germany and whose properties are well known.

Both adding and subtracting can be done with a new calculating machine that is about the size of a watch and can be carried in a vest pocket.

ORIGIN OF BREAD IS UNKNOWN

Interesting to Trace the "Staff of Life" in Its Course Throughout the Ages.

The origin of wheat is lost in antiquity. Even the original home of the cereal plants of which bread is being made is not known, all the researches and hypotheses notwithstanding. Where wheat, spelt, rye, barley, buckwheat, etc., first offered man their grainy ears for food is an unsolved problem.

But that originally bread was not roasted or baked, as modern man knows it, but eaten as dough or paste, may be inferred from its relation with the word "broth," both of these words being derived from the root "brcuwan," "brcu," to brew. In all probability it was originally the boiled coarse meal with nothing added to it but salt. The leavening and baking of the bread was a later development. The origin of these processes is a matter of speculation; but so much is certain: that baking preceded the leavening of the bread that causes it to rise; also that the original form of the bread was not the loaf, but a kind of thin, flat cake like the matzo, or unleavened bread of the Jews, or the tortillas of the Mexicans. Like these, it was probably roasted upon intensely heated flat stones.

With the discovery of the leaven the flat cake increased in height until it assumed the form of our loaf.

Agricultural.

"Why don't your potatoes grow better?" "I'm afraid they got stuck in their eyes."

Between 1901 and 1910 Canada had 1,504 strikes, involving 898,301 employees.

Combine The Grains

That's what is done in making Grape-Nuts food—barley and other grains are used with wheat. This adds to food value and flavor, and the sum total requires less wheat. The malted barley in Grape-Nuts also helps digest other foods. For an economical, nourishing and delicious food, try Grape-Nuts.
